I was over to that joint the other day and was almost smothered with dough.

A guy with a blue suit with a lot of buttons steered me around. "Over here," he said, "is a vault with nothing but $10,000 bills in it." Nothing but. "Over here we have a vault with nothing but $1,000 bills." Nothing but. "In this vault we have nothing but $100 bills." Nothing but. A watchman takes a slant at you every time you turn

"It would take a sand wagon six months to dump the $5 gold pieces out of that vault," said the guide as he pointed to a big square vault on the side. The watchman stuck his eagle glim on me again.

Dough, dough everywhere, and not a jit to lift. It was tough to leave there and step into Childs' for a dash of coffee and.

J. Ogden Armour had the right dope. He's about as discouraged as I am. He only makes twenty-six million bucks a year. A friend of his said to him one day, "Say, it must feel great to be as rich as you are." Armour scratched his head, pulled a long sigh, and answered, "RICH!" Say, when I think of the money that Rockefeller and Carnegie have I feel like a gypsy."
